DLL Module 3: Promoting Language and Learning for Dual Language Learners Through Play

Session will be held on:

January 24, 2022

4:30 pm – 7:00 pm

Zoom Session

By nature, children use play to actively participate in making meaning and constructing knowledge. Teachers set the stage for purposeful play that leads to learning and social interactions. It is a critical responsibility for teachers to plan for and create environments that are inclusive of diverse learners and communities.

Participants will:

- Deepen their understanding of the powerful role of play
- Explore the strategic use of play as a learning strategy
- Examine play as a vehicle for task completion that can be less demanding of language production
- Explore emerging opportunities to support DLLs, such as through narrating children's play
